Can we start meeting in person? Yes

Do we have to? No

You should start meeting in person when you are ready. Also, do not force, compel, push or require Scouts to start attending the meeting. There is still a lot of fear concerning the virus and remember scouting needs to be a safe place.

How do we start? Let find out.

Steps to restarting

- 1. Create a plan
- 2. Review the plan with Charter Organization
- 3. Communicate the plan with scouts and parents
- 4. Execute the plan
- 5. Post meeting review and revise

The Plan the Site.

The Plan the After Meeting.

Review the plan with your Charter Organization.

Remember your unit is a part of the charter organization and they might have some restrictions on facilities or group sizes that are different form policies provided National, Council or the State of Ohio. They might have internal guidelines on how to clean before and after or how much time might need to exist between separate meetings.

Marc's Letter

- 6. When transporting Scouts, carpooling is not yet allowed as only families can travel together. If a unit is planning an activity outside the State of Ohio, please also be aware of certain travel restrictions other states may have including the need for self-quarantining. Learn more about travel guidelines here.
- overnight camping allowed outside of Beaumont Scout Reservation Resident Camp or other BSA Camps authorized to be open by the rules of their State or other jurisdiction. We will communicate with our families with procedures and guidelines once those restrictions are lifted. Unit's who choose to camp independently when it is not permitted by the State, will not be covered by liability insurance that normally covers leaders and the supplement health insurance that covers leaders and Scouts will not be in effect during those camping activities.
- 8. Units may not provide home cooked meals or serve commercially purchased food. Outside of resident camp, food for activities should be purchased and prepared by the Scout's individual family.

Communicate the plan to Scouts, Parents or Guardians.

Provide clear instructions and clear expectations.

Include instructions before he meeting What to bring to the meeting What is going to happen during the meeting What is expected after or between meeting.

Make it message clear that their scout is not required to attend, but should do so when they are comfortable with meeting in person.

Also include any virtual connection options if available.

Follow the plan that you have established.

Stay on script. Meetings can go astray very quickly when youth are not fully engaged.
